Testimonial for Christopher Hill

Dear Christopher,

I would like to take this opportunity to formally thank you for your excellent contribution to our first 'Personal Development Day'. Not only for the five excellent 'addictive lifestyles' seminars you delivered, but your commitment and flexibility throughout the planning process. Both you and your colleagues have been a pleasure to work with throughout this event.

Your presentations gave our students a true insight into the risks of addictive lifestyles and the necessary skills to avoid them. You delivered your sessions with professionalism and integrity whilst naturally differentiating material so it were suitable to a range of age groups. This is no easy task and we appreciate the amount of preparation it takes to deliver five hours worth of content whilst pitching it at multiple audiences.

Throughout your sessions, you showed great subject knowledge and a genuine passion to educate our students about the risks and prevention of addictive lifestyles. Whilst our day featured a lot of content about drink, drugs and gambling, it was pleasing to see you discuss other topics such as diet, online gaming, obsessive-compulsive tendencies and other addictions.

Both students and staff enjoyed your presentations and it was particularly pleasing to see students from each year group volunteer to join you on the stage. Students engaged in your seminars, showing confidence and trust in you - something that should not be taken for granted.

On behalf of Queensmead School, we wish you every success on your journey to educate as many young people as you can about the risks and prevention of addictive lifestyles. Our students certainly benefitted from the knowledge and insight you shared.

We would recommend you unreservedly to any other educational institutions and look forward to working with you again soon.

Yours sincerely
